• Job Training Albuquerque (JTA) is the City's

- premier workforce development program. JTA provides Albuquerque small businesses the opportunity to skill up their employees by funding free training courses in high-demand skills.
- JTA is a partnership between the City of Albuquerque and Central New Mexico Community College. Program funding is provided by the City's Economic Development Department and the program is administered by CNM Ingenuity. Eligible trainings may be offered by any JTA Partner, such as ACNM, Corus Academy, CNMI, UNM, NMCCEA, and AGC-NM.
- The City's Economic Development Department (EDD) prioritizes workforce development as a strategy for economic growth. The EDD creates opportunities to skill up Albuquerque's workforce and to match local employer demand, advance workers' careers, and generate higher wages.

JTA Reach: January 2020 to March 2024

- $2.5 Million Invested
- $39.5 Million Annual Wage-Earning Power Added
- 15x Return on Investment

JTA in Growth Mode

Participant Stories

"I would like to thank Job Training Albuquerque for the generous opportunity they provided by sponsoring my enrollment in the Women in Leadership class. The class I took has not only empowered me with valuable knowledge and skills but has also significantly impacted my personal and professional growth. The course included various aspects of women's leadership, equipping me with insights, strategies, and practical tools to navigate the challenges and opportunities that arise in leadership roles. The content was thought-provoking and has enhanced my understanding of the unique qualities and perspectives that women bring to leadership positions.

Thank you once again for the City's generosity. I am excited to apply the knowledge gained from the class to make meaningful contributions to my workplace and community."

> "We have found Job Training Albuquerque to be a valuable resource to meet a variety of training needs, (JTA) staff have made it easy to navigate the process as a participating employer. We appreciate the stellar support we received and the opportunity to leverage the JTA program to help us advance the skills and capabilities of our technical professionals, through relevant quality training!"

> "Working with Job Training Albuquerque allows our company to better support employees in their career growth and development, and is such a valuable resource. The flexible class schedules, online learning, and variety of courses available provides learning opportunities for so many diverse career choices and individuals. It has also been easy to work with the JTA team in getting class information and funding put in place without being buried in paperwork."

> "Job Training Albuquerque's services allow Barrett Foundation to support staff in accessing supervision and leadership tools to not only support the organization, but also the employee's long range professional goals. As a result of the classes our staff have participated in, we have seen an increase in retention rates and better overall employee satisfaction."

Partnering for Success – Associated General Contractors of New Mexico

In the fall of 2022, Job Training Albuquerque (JTA) launched a partnership with the Associated General Contractors of New Mexico to connect local construction employers with the many industry trainings they offer.

"AGC New Mexico (AGC NM) has long been a cornerstone provider of professional education and credentials in the construction industry. With over 50 JTA participating companies and nearly 200 individuals trained, our partnerships through JTA have significantly bolstered workforce training and development in our industry, especially at a time when securing a skilled and available workforce is our foremost challenge," stated Kelly Roepke-Orth, CEO of AGC NM.

"Employers have provided invaluable insights into the evolving market dynamics influencing workforce training. The JTA program has empowered us to adapt and enhance career advancement opportunities for individuals, thereby amplifying the performance of construction firms and the industry as a whole. We're excited to uphold our commitment to the professional growth of construction workers and take pride in our role in nurturing small business expansion across the state,"
